The religious and "strictly non-partisan" Weskiy Enquirer is ont today again explaining to its readers how dangerous to the west a free trade policy will be, and claiming that even free coinage of silver would not be a help to us without protection. Another article in the paper accuses those Democrats who has fall made affidavits that church interference in polifics was attempted or practiced, of carrying within their carcasses bearts of a Robispherre. Nice subjects these for a religious organ posing as a strictly non-partises manner.

W. C. Stone, wife and babe, who have been visiting with relatives in Waitham, Mass, since November last, returned to their home in Provo today, hale, hearty and well. Mr. Stone is a Republican and his father is a banker in Mastachusetts, and, of course, a goldbug. Watter has, therefore, had a grand opportunity to see and know just how the goldbugs feel this year, having been for months right in the midst of them. He says they are greatly worried over the inroad the silver cause is making upon the voters of the common class in the east, and predicts a Bryan vote in Massachusetts so targe as will surprise the most enthusiastic silver man of the south or west. Bets are being made two to one in the east, he says, that the Maine electoral vote will go to Bryan this year.

CONTINUE SPRAYING.

The Second Crop of Codlin Moth Now Appearing-Active Work

In order that pest results may be obtained from spraying of fruit trees, it is highly important that the work continued with great care during the next six weeks.

No matter how thorough the work of

No matter how thorough the work of the early spring, some worms are found in every orchard, since it is physical impossibility to so spray a tree as that each young worm shall find a dose of poison before he is safely entrenched in the little apple. Having once en-tered the apple the worm is secure from the effects of all future spraying. The worms thus escaping in early spring are now reaching maturity and preparworms thus escaping in early spring are now reaching maturity and prepar-ing to leave the fruit. They seek pro-tected spots about the cocoon, undergo transformation and emerge in the form of a flying moth within a period of of a nying mota winin a period of fitteen or tweaty days. Many apples examined show the depredation of the worms which have already departed, while in a number of specimens of wormy apples placed by me in glass jars, the worms have been transformed into moths.

This plainty emphasizes the importance of thorough spraying to kill the crop of worms that will result from eggs deposited by the moth now devel-opling. This second broad will hatch continuously during the next four weeks and the worm, if unmolested, will ruin the apples and pears that, up to date, may be free from injury. The work of these second crop worms is apparent in the unsightly and damag-

work of these second crop worms is apparent in the unsightly and damaging holes found in the sides of winter applies that may show no signs of internal injury. Applies thus marked are not only unsightly, but as totally unfit for keeping as those which have the worm inside.

Regarding the frequent expressions of fear of poison from eating sprayed fruits, I desire to say the most exhaustive inquiry fails to discover anywhere in the United States one single instance of injury to man or beast from eating sprayed fruits or vegetables. Furthermore, all fear should be dispelled by the announcement by the chemists of the department of agriculture that in order to receive a fatal dose of arsenic from sprayed fruits, a dose of arsenic from sprayed fruits, a person must eat at least twelve bush-els of apples, recently sprayed, within one day.

In the interest of Utah horticulture and to the end that our fruit may re-tain the justiy high reputation for ex-cellence aiready obtained it should be the aim of every good citizen to do his the aim of every good citizen to do his part toward the extermination of all orchard pests. There remains no room for doubt as to the efficacy of spraying, the only condition being that the work be thoroughly and persistently done. Very respectfully,

J. A. WRIGHT,

President State Board of Horticulture,
